Brian Jaques is a very good author who has specialized in writing a series of books that starts with "Redwall" and continues on with about twenty more books. The whole series is about Redwall Abbey where its inhabitants of peaceful creatures such as moles, mice, badgers, and hares live. They do not fight unless to defend themselves or their friends. However at least once in the series they are in dire need to call on the spirit of their founder of Redwall Abbey --- Martin the Warrior.
