If money was no problem there would be a lot of things that I would do. There are a lot of ways to spend it and if I want to I can spend it with anyone.

If money were no problem, I would not drop out of school like the majority of people would do. I would continue my education and get as many degrees in my field of study as possible. I believe you may be rich, but you will always need an education. Without an education someone can easily use me and take all my money away. So education would be a necessity if money were no problem.

In addition, to the pattern I said I would buy with my money, if money was no problem is a liquor store that's a big investment. I would buy all stores in my home town and just make money. I would open up an IHOP and a new mall. Then, I would give back to the community. I would get all the buildings in downtown Pine Bluff renovated and open up stores, restaurants, bars, and late night clubs all downtown. I would make downtown like it should be. I would just make Pine Bluff beautiful but only after I buy myself an island with a mansion that has a little brook flowing through it.

Finally, if money were no object I would just spend it with anyone. People tend to let greed get in the way when it comes to money. I would just spend it with my family and fiancé overall. I splurge a little, but on things but the majority would be spent with my family.

If money were no problem basically I would take care of my hometown and do some good to my hometown and take care of my family. While making more money with my investments so my kids and so on will be taken care of.
