It is a peaceful beach in the coasts of Sinaloa Mexico, only the waves breaking of the beach and a few birds are the only noise in this place. Its sand is very delicate and clear, it is also very clean, that is because only a few people visit this place. You can see a lot of large rocks near the sea. The water in this sea is slightly cold. But you can swim in it. This place has a Mediterranean climate, a beautiful weather because it is not cold or hot.

The tranquility, the beautiful the purity of the air that you breathe and the people around you make this place so special for me and my family. Here you can relax and enjoy a beautiful vacations with your friends or with your family.

The first time I visit this place was when I was five years old, because my father had a business trip to that place, and he decided to go with his family; I was exited about it, when I first saw this place. Every time I was in this place I feel relax, happy and inspired about the work.
