Julius Caesar was one of history's most famous men. Julius Caesar was brave. Julius Caesar was also very good with people. Willing anything in Caesar life a chance to win a big in the game of government and war.

The story is told how he was captured by pirates while still at a young age of only twenty-two years old. They decided to payoff him off for twenty talents of gold but he explained that he was meant much more. Julius Caesar was also very smart.

On March 15, 44 A.D., Julius Caesar was brutally assonated. Julius Caesar was killed by senators that led by Marcus Julius Brutus and Gaius Cassius Longihus. In June 52 B.C., Caesar was overpowered at Gergovia, and lost 700 men. In 59 B.C., Caesar was elected to the office of consul along with Bibulus. Caesar was able to sit on the curule chair, which is reserved for consul in the senate.
